Letter from the editor

Central Vermont has some of the finest local restaurants and eateries anywhere.

And after a day of outdoor adventures your mouth is sure to be watering and tummy rumbling. So don't go hungry, enjoy delicious food and drink while supporting a local restaurant!

All area restaurants continue to follow best practices for health and safety to ensure guests feel safe, satisfied and satiated.

Due to the increased popularity of our area, planning ahead is always a good idea. If you plan to dine-in, get reservations. For take out, calling an hour ahead is recommended at most establishments (and nearly all offer takeout options now — including cocktails!!) Grab-and-go options are also available at some local eateries.

This semi-annual publication — a cherished guide for thousands of tourists and locals alike — aims to help you find what you're craving and discover new local favorites. We hope you enjoy perusing the menus inside.
